Hi Sue,

Sorry this is coming a little late. I've attached the document being developed for the public meetings. Just as a reminder, the evidence tables are in place, but the arrays are old. I was able to landscape the pages with the arrays, but for some reason the page numbering is all screwed up. Offhand do you know how to fix that? I sure don't...

Also, in the category of "sometimes I never learn," I talked to samantha after we chatted and told her of our plan on how to handle the references for the "additional sources" category. She didn't care for it. Her thought was basically to have the discussion with the managers about whether we include all the citations here, or just say that we will rely on HERO for that. However, to have that discussion, it's probably best to provide the document to the managers with all ~250 references included.

I'm fine with that. It's not that hard to create those bulleted lists of references; just figured I'd let you know what I thought we'd be doing. If we wind up going with our original plan to only highlight certain sub categories that should take ~20 minutes to fix.

See you tomorrow!

-Lou
